It's time to return to Pride Rock, and after 25 years, Simba's house has never looked more impressive. The animated version of The Lion King debuted in 1994 and has invested a ton of magic in our lives and childhoods. Now, the father/son story of love, loss, and friendship is about to get a stunning live action retelling. The 21st-century version of The Lion King will debut on July 19, 2019, and it will be glorious. This time, director Jon Favreau is set to bring the beloved tale to life with Donald Glover as Simba, Beyonce as Nala, James Earl Jones reprising his role as Mufasa, Chiwetel Ejiofor as Scar Billy Eichner as Timon, and Seth Rogen as Pumbaa. While we were nervous about the film at first, knowing that Favreau was the genius behind the 2016 live action Jungle Book and seeing the gorgeous trailer calmed many of our concerns. Still, looking at the enormity of the film and its all-star cast, how much does live action for The Lion King worth doing? The $250 million extravaganza Although the budget for live action the Lion King has not officially been confirmed, Marvel Studios boss, Kevin Feige let slip that the film will have a $250 million budget, and it looks like every penny has been spent well. Not only did Disney have to get the animation and the music just right, but they also had to be able to afford Beyonce, which we're sure was an expensive penny. The original animated classic cost Disney only $45 million, and at the box office worldwide it was almost 1 billion dollars. The Lion King's budget also gives Favreau a little more to play with then he's for The Jungle Book, which was budgeted at $177 million #TheLionKing. 2019. pic.twitter.com/UMJo18FwDt - Disney (@Disney) November 1, 2017 Disney's most expensive film 2019 Despite its huge budget, The Lion King won't be Disney's most expensive movie of the year. This honor goes to Avengers: Endgame, which debuts April 26, The final installment in the Avengers saga cost Disney $350 million to get to the big screen. This will be the most expensive Disney movie of all time. Before that, the studio's most expensive live action movie was Pirates of the Caribbean: The End of the World, with a budget of $300 million. Meanwhile, their most expensive animated film was Tangled, which cost the studio $260 million. This year, Disney's most expensive animated feature is Frozen 2, which will premiere on November 22, 2019, and Toy Story 4, which will premiere on June 21, 2019. The films both have a budget of $200 million, which is not as expensive as the Lion King, but almost like a budget busting. Disney has a ton of movies coming down the pipeline this year, but we have to say that we're most excited about the little lion who just can't wait to be king. Check out the Cheat sheet on Facebook!
